

Statement on postponing 2020 China International Bearing Industry Exhibition

Distinguished exhibitors, professional visitors and all the friends,

2020 China International Bearing Industry Exhibition sponsored by China Bearing Industry Association, since the opening of online registration platform in May 2019, domestic and overseas exhibitors have actively signed up for the exhibition. All preparatory work be carried out steadily, and the organizers have completed related work according to the plan and fully prepared for the exhibition to be held as scheduled.

However, in the current epidemic situation, according to the requirements of exhibitors and some visitors, and also considering the actual effect of the exhibition. In the attitude of being highly responsible for the health and safety of exhibitors, visitors and all the friends, after a careful and difficult choice, we have decided on postponing 2020 China International Bearing Industry Exhibition (17th session) that will be held at National Exhibition and Convention Center (Shanghai) originally from May 13-16, 2020. The new date will be announced later.

We will maintain in consultation with relevant government departments and the exhibition center on the matters related to the postponement of the exhibition. Every adjustment will timely release on the official website and WeChat public platform.

We apologize for the inconvenience caused by the delay of the exhibition. We will strengthen communication with every exhibitors and cooperative partners, and do our best to the follow-up works.

We hope that through our unremitting efforts, the postponed exhibition will continue to be the grand event for the communication and development of the world bearing industry and bring more benefits to the friends participating in the exhibition.

After thirty years of growth, in the company of all the friends, the exhibition has come to the 17th session. Thank you for your always supporting, concerning and helping!

Let's go through the storm and overcome the difficulties again. Sunshine will follow the rain and we will share the grand event, seek common development and achieve fruitful results!

China Bearing Industry Association

CBIA (Beijing) Exhibition Co., Ltd.

2020-03-11